What Adi said in the two calls

30 October, then 9 November. The later call corrects the Colab detour.

30 Oct. One workshop for any job. Install Antigravity. Read every line it writes.

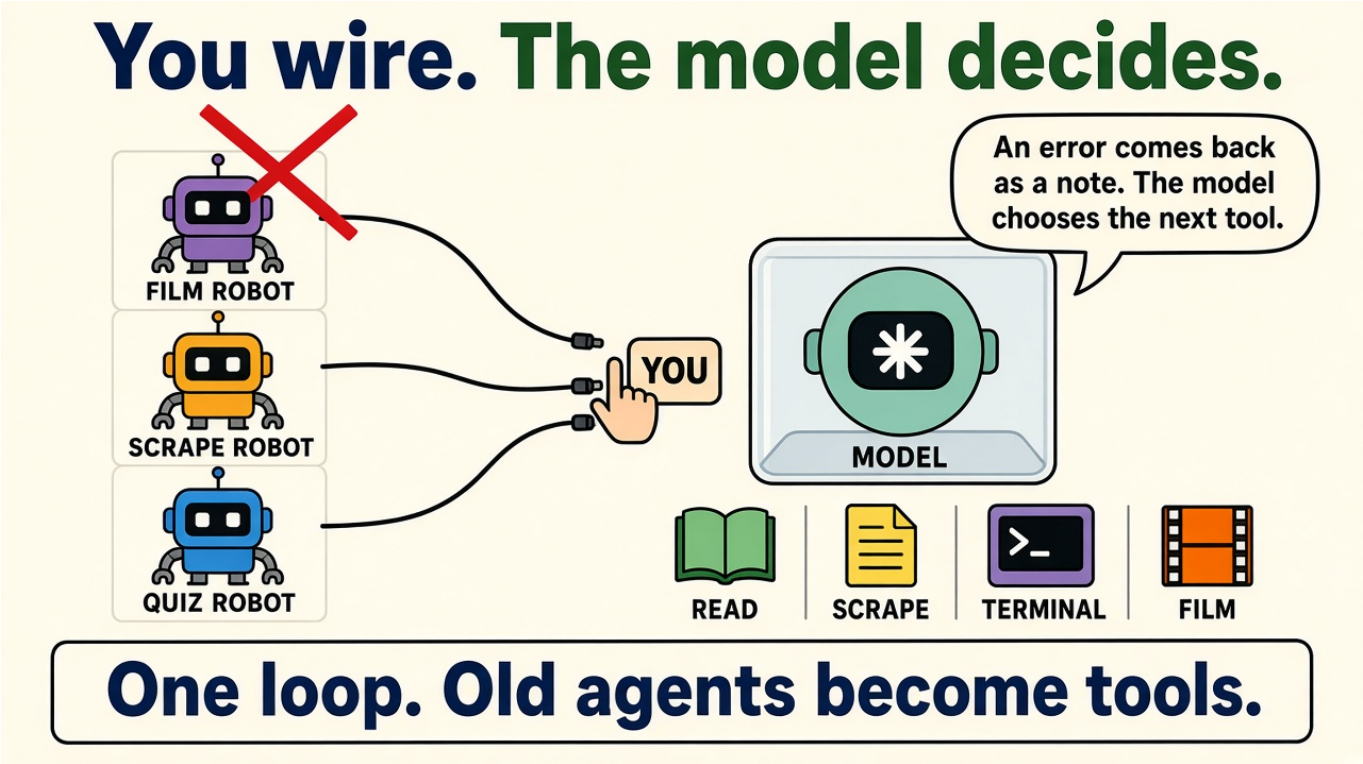

9 Nov. The chat that sent you to Colab was wrong. The workshop stays on the laptop.

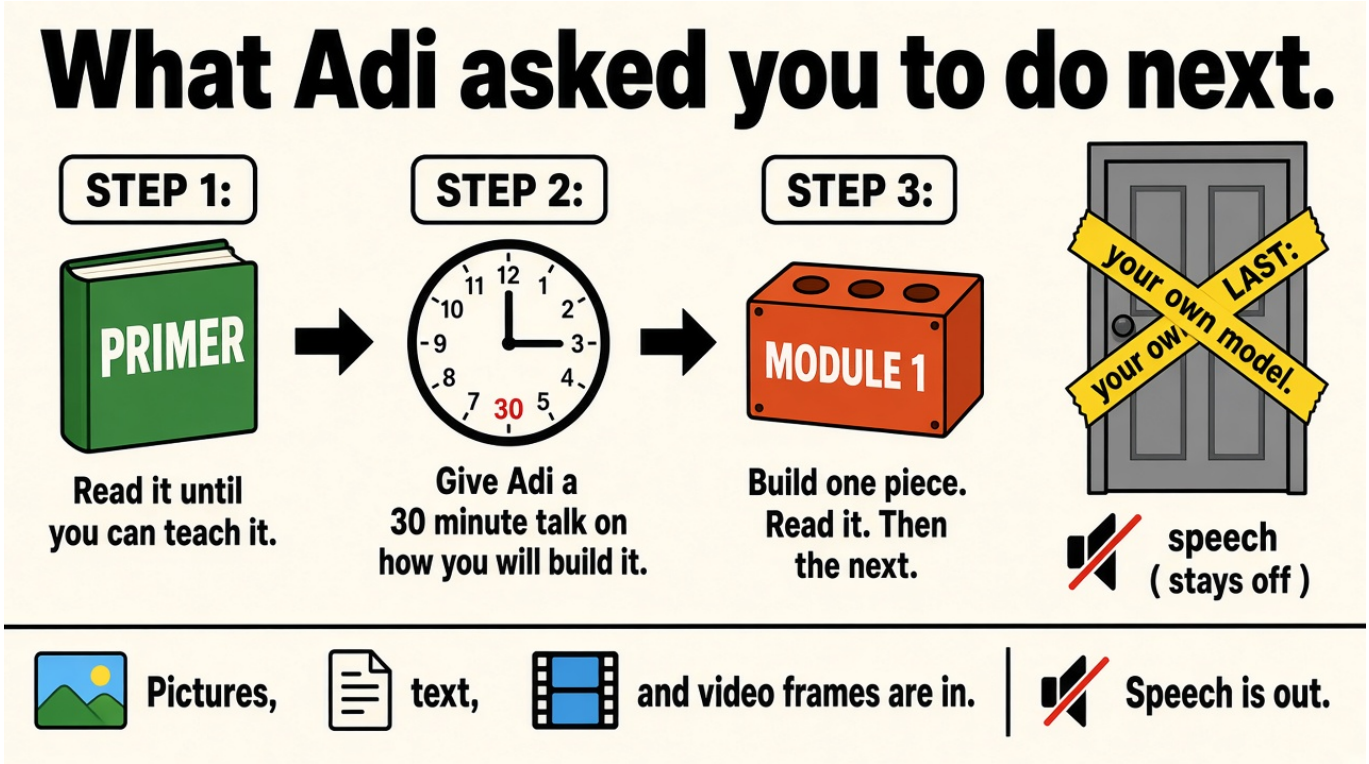

If you can ask Antigravity to do it, your workshop should be able to try.

Use the Antigravity login already paid for. Do not buy a second key.

You connect the tools. The model picks the next one, even after an error.

Read the primer, give the 30 minute talk, then build one piece at a time. Your own model is last. Speech stays off.
